UK Zombie Festival - Nov 13th

Yes, you heard me right, it is the 4th UK Festival of Zombie Culture and once again it is in Leicester's £22 million Media Centre, Phoenix Square.

Saturday November the 13th will once again see the great and the good of the UKS zombie fans descend upon the city for over 13 hours of zombie madness and Yes, I did say more than 13 hours...

So come dressed a zombie, get your make up done at the event, you could win the Best Dressed Zombie Award. Start turning up from 11.30ish and you can browse the stalls, which this year include FAB Press, Forbidden Planet, Shock Horror Magazine and not one but 2 of the countries leading zombie survival experts talking about and signing copies of their books... In between the films will be make up artists who will make you up as one of the living dead, the 3 minute zombie challenge where people kill as many zombies as they can in Dead Rising 2, the stalls, chats, an all day bar serving food, so the zombie action is non-stop throughout the day...

Then at 12 noon, the films begin, opening traditionally again with an absolute classic... The Living dead at the Manchester Morgue, this 1974 movie is a Spanish Film, made in England and still haunts to this day, so we are starting as we mean to go on...

This is followed swiftly by a Feature presentation of British Films, amongst which are E'Gad Zombies, a 20 minute period drama with Ian McKellan and the UKs second showing of 'Zomblies' an amazing 50 minute ride into zombie hell, its high octane stuff brimming with lots of guns and lots of gore...

The next films on the big screen will be the 2010 UK Zombie Film Devils Playground, with Danny Dyer (Doghouse, Severed), Jaime Murray (Hustle, Dexter) and Craig Fairbrass (Far Cry) as London descends into a zombie frenzy, there's only one person who may be immune.

Reel Zombies, the toast of the indie film circuit is next, this is a 'Making of documentary' about a zombie film being made, but the only way the budget can allow this is to use real zombies, as it's set after the Zombie Apocalypse...

Dellamorte Dellamore is a bizarre journey into the realms of the Living Dead, starring Rupert Everett as the unfortunate Cemetery caretaker that has to spend most of his time keeping his 'residents' in the ground... The final movie to take to the screen is Zombies of Mass Destruction, a humorous look at the zombie apocalypse in small town America, where as soon as the dead rise, everyone gets targeted by the local population...

All of this is only £25 for a whole day pass and includes everything, get your tickets... Book Now...

Are Zombies The Next Big Thing To Hit The Small Screen?

Move over vampires as we are predicting zombies to be THE next big thing to hit the small screen. For quite some time now we've been bombarded with TV series and movies featuring our favourite blood sucking friends. Twilight, The Vampire Diaries and of course our very own True Blood, have made vampires one of the biggest trends to dominate TV and film in recent years.

But what about zombies?

In film, zombies have been a real success- just look at 28 Days Later, Zombieland and Dawn of the Dead. But sadly on TV zombies haven't been so popular. They seem to have been relegated to something of a figure of fun- think Charlie Brooker's take on zombies in his recent series on E4 "Dead Set". Until now that is... "The Walking Dead" has made it clear that it wants to fly in the face of these zombie stereotypes by dealing with some hard hitting socio-cultural issues and keeping to the more serious tone of Kirkman's comics. Personally I can't wait.

Directed by Frank Darabont of Shawshank Redemption fame, FXUK will be bringing you The Walking Dead on November 5th.

The groundbreaking show is an adaptation of Kirkman's comics and follows a group of survivors in a post-apocalyptic zombie world.

A COMMUNITY GENERATED ZOMBIE DOCUMENTARY LOST ZOMBIES

A zombie pandemic has broken out.

There is widespread chaos all over the world. As one of the survivors, you want to communicate with others out there, but you aren't sure where to turn to get your message out. What you need to do is get yourself over to LostZombies.com and tell your story.

You may be wondering what exactly is going on since there really hasn't been an actual zombie outbreak.

All of this is part of the world dreamed up by Skot Leach and Rob Oshima, the two visionaries who devised a place where people could come together in a community of collaborative storytellers.

Ok so there may not have been an actual zombie apocalypse (yet) but this is the project dreamt up by Skot Leach and Rob Oshima after deciding they wanted to shake up the film and horror world.

Lost Zombies and it's members wants you to leave reality at the door and jump into the undead-filled world they've created alongside the 15,000 users on the site. The ultimate aim of which is crafting submissions into a feature-length film.

At the beginning it was decided the initial theme had to be epic in scope, it had to be something that could be happening all over the globe.

Another main concern was the age old question of new age fast zombies versus Romero Shufflers. The solution was simple: use both! The site prides itself on providing a home for pretty much anyone who has a creative streak and a story to tell. Even those who just want to kick back and chill in that chat room or forum. While the site is still currently working on putting together the contributed materials into the final movie for film festival tours, cinema and eventual DVD release, the site has just finished interviewing George A Romero and have agreed a major deal with an international publisher to start printing copies of the Lost Zombies Scrapbook, a journal made up of photos and stories submitted by the members of the site from the viewpoint of a survivor of the outbreak.

They aim to wrap up accepting submissions for the film by mid 2011 so there's time to get on in on the action!

ZOMBIE-AID HAS SPREAD TO LEEDS

This November 21st will see the outbreak spread into Leeds City Centre. To join the walk a fee of £2 per zombie will be collected at the start, sponsorship forms are available on Zombie-Aid.com.

The walk will begin at Travelling Man at 6pm and ends at OK Comics. Zombies are then invited to attend the after-party hosted by Fab Café. A zombie themed quiz will be run and there will be raffle tickets available with a variety of prizes. All monies are raised on behalf of CLIC Sargent and Make a Wish Foundation.

ZOMBIE-AIDS HALLOWEEN NUMBER 1?

Film maker and creative director, Carl Whiteley, has set an ambitious goal – for Zombie-Aid's charity single to hit the number one slot by 31st October 2010. The double 'A' side single will be released on the 25th October and be available to pre-order during the first week in September and features bands, Resist and Uncle Rotter.

Carl formed UK based Zombie-Aid early 2009 which so far has taken the form of popular 'Zombie Walks', a phenomenon which has spread around the world, the largest walk being in Canada.

The video to accompany the single be seen on The Zombie-Aid website and Youtube, you will also have an opportunity to pre-order this on various online music sites.

It only needs to sell 5,500 copies to reach the top 40, so with a big effort from everyone involved, the leap to number one is not as great as you think.

Zombie Aid hopes to raise thousands for charity if this tops the charts and are being helped to raise awareness by the Make-A-Wish charity themselves as well as Zombie-Aid sponsors Smiffy's – who plan to advertise the single to over 4000 of the retailers they supply to. You can find more information on the single as well as the planned walks by visiting www.zombie-aid.com or contacting Carl directly on info@zombie-aid.com

DEAD RISING 2 CASE ZERO BREAKS RECORDS

Capcom is happy to announce that its recently released downloadable title, Dead Rising 2: CASE ZERO, has broken all records on Xbox LIVE with the best week one unit sales in the history of all content distributed through Xbox LIVE Arcade.

The prologue to the highly-anticipated Dead Rising 2, Dead Rising 2: CASE ZERO, launched last week as a unique piece of downloadable content exclusively for Xbox LIVE Arcade.

A standalone title that helps bridge the gap between the original Dead Rising and the soon-to-be-released Dead Rising 2, it allows fans a taste of the new Dead Rising world on Xbox 360.

The unique prologue experience gives gamers a glimpse of what's to come in Dead Rising 2 as it includes new combo weapons; your first look at survivors and a psycho; an introduction to new protagonist, Chuck Greene and his daughter Katey and a system that allows you to carry your character attributes collected in Dead Rising 2: CASE ZERO into the main game.

Dead Rising 2: CASE ZERO is now available exclusively to download on Xbox LIVE Arcade. Dead Rising 2 is now available on the Xbox 360, PlayStation 3 and PC.

THE HALLOWEEN MONSTER MOVIE CHALLENGE

This UK horror film event taking place on October 30th 2010. Those lovely grrls at Emerald Void Productions presents before your very eyes a celebration of magnificent monsters and independent art. The challenge runs until October 16th where indie film-makers had to make their nightmares into reality! The challenge was to produce a film that depicts a monster Werewolves, mummies, vampires and of course zombies or it could also be a monster of their own imagination such as 2009s poo monster. The film must also include a line of dialogue that we give them to ensure their film is made for the challenge. They each have the choice of three lines and must use them in the most creative way possible.

That is the challenge, want to see what they've come up with? This year we have over twenty freshly made short films ready to be premiered at the Sound Bar in Birmingham. So spend your Halloween with us as we are entertained by bands Meathook and 8-Bit Ninjas. There will be drink offers and we will crown the monster movie king or queen with a special prize! Fancy dress welcome. £3 all in. See you all on the other side... October 30 at 6:00pm - October 31 at 2:00am Soundbar, 205-213 Corporation St, Bir'm, B4 6SE

DAY OF THE UNDEAD
4TH UK FESTIVAL OF ZOMBIE CULTURE

ZOMBLIES

4TH UK FESTIVAL OF ZOMBIE CULTURE

The awesome UK movie Zombies is just one of the films being shown at the Day of the Undead 2010.

When a private militia's rookie zombie hunters send out a distress call, it's up to the Rangers to cross The Wall and bring them back, as well as uncover the truth about a terrifying new breed of zombie. Bewitched mill-workers, shambling corpses and rage-fuelled mobs; Zombies have evolved as their own unique form of cinema, bringing the undead to life countless times for the enjoyment of the living. Zombies continues this rich tradition with its unique exploration of the evolution of zombie-cinema in a balls-to-the-wall film spectacular!

In the ten years following a devastating zombie pandemic, Britain has rebuilt herself except for one region. The South West has been annexed and an enormous wall erected to hold the remaining infected at bay, the perfect environment for studying the zombies.

Enter the Rangers, a corporate militia tasked with studying the infected. After years of infiltration, the Rangers have become complacent and a newly formed rookie team 'Ranger Cubs,' sends out a distress call after a mission goes horribly awry.

The virus has changed. A veteran team is assembled to rescue the lost Rangers but are there really any survivors? What has happened to the infected? Is their mission really all that it seems?

Realm Pictures was founded on the belief that independent film doesn't have to compromise itself in terms of scale and visual impact. Anything that can be done by the big studios can be done with a fraction of the budget and a fraction of the manpower, thanks to the progression of technology and the willingness to hold down a day-job and then spend the rest of the day doing the real work. Director – David M Reynolds

REEL ZOMBIES

DAY OF THE UNDEAD
4TH UK FESTIVAL OF ZOMBIE CULTURE

Independent Zombie Film makers, Producer Mike Masters and Director David J. Francis, the team behind the commercially unsuccessful Zombie Night 1 and 2, have found the climate for Zombie movies has changed significantly after the "real" zombie invasion begins.

Hedging on the fact that the Zombie mayhem that has taken a grip on the nation is only a temporary problem, the film makers realize that once normalcy has returned, demand for Zombie product (now outlawed) will be at an all time high. The filmmakers seize an opportunity to do something they were never able to before on their meagre budgets, make a memorable zombie film. This time, however, through using real zombies, the film will have an authenticity and production value previously unattainable. They set about "bringing the gang back together" and assemble key cast and crew members from their past productions (the ones that aren't already dead). With a full crew and a documentarian following them all the way, Masters and Francis embark on the production of their masterpiece. Film production at the best of time is wrought with peril, and for these intrepid film makers, it is no different this time around. From the challenges of safely shooting with and wrangling the hoards of untrained zombies to creative differences over what the film is ultimately to be about - the filmmakers face new challenges and production gets more precarious at every step.

The entire process is documented, complete with interviews, behind the scenes footage of production meetings and shooting challenges, as the filmmakers struggle with cast and crew being eaten by their hungry zombie extras.

A lack of resources to finish the film, and an increasingly high level of zombie activity cause them to reconsider their previous notion that "things will soon be back to normal." It's all the challenges of shooting a low budget zombie film, mixed with the perils of surviving in a Zombie infested world. Will they finish the film and get their long deserved accolades as pioneers, or will the making of documentary be all that's left of their attempts to bring something innovative, fresh and devastatingly real to the screen?

Narrated by (and with a cameo by) Ian McKellen, the award winning film is set in 1700's England in a town called Upper Trollop where there lived a somewhat dappy poet named William Filthe`. He was the younger brother of the family and therefore his chances of actually achieving anything in his life were slim to middling at best. Not that this mattered to him of course, for he was in love with the beautiful but slightly terrifying Vanity Banks, and had decided that as soon as she stopped throwing vegetables at him, they should marry. The reason Vanity threw vegetables at William was because he was poor. She was rich and everybody loved her so why on earth would she marry a poet who spent his time at her window spouting his ludicrous poetry. So she decided to marry Richard Filthe`, William's affluent elder brother and all round bad egg. So William, devastated, decides to leave England and live as a monk, turning his back on life and love. On the morning of his departure however, he finds his household deserted and one of his servants, Sandwich, half eaten. Racing through the town to save the woman he loves, he discovers that Upper Trollop has been infected by an illness, turning all it's inhabitants into crazed creatures and making them all rather...bitey...

ROMEROS BEST ARE BIGGER AND BETTER

Day of the Dead DVD

From Arrow Video comes the ultimate two-disc DVD edition of George A. Romero's Day Of The Dead featuring a whole host of specially produced, world exclusive extras previously only available on Arrow Video's 25th Anniversary Edition Blu-ray release of the film.

Easily the bleakest, goriest and most chilling of Romero's zombie movies to date, Day Of The Dead sees Tom Savini and his special effects team hitting an all-time career high with an endless succession of super-realistic flesh tearing, bone snapping, gut spilling mayhem that for some viewers will prove almost too much to endure. This two-disc Day Of The Dead (cert. 18) is available now.

Dawn of the Dead DVD
Also from Arrow comes the ultimate four-disc DVD edition of George A. Romero's Dawn Of The Dead featuring three different cuts of the feature presentation plus a whole host of specially produced extras previously only available on Arrow Video's Blu-ray release of the film.. The first sequel to George A. Romero's seminal 1968 zombie classic "Night Of The Living Dead", the equally powerful and apocalyptic Dawn Of The Dead was hailed by respected film critic Roger Ebert as "One of the best horror films ever made." The four-disc Dawn Of The Dead (cert. 18) is available now.

STRANGE ZOMBIES, PART 13

An awesome looking zombie, yes, from Day of the Undead, 2009 BUT what is with the pints, why do you look so guilty? Is it because last years best dressed zombie is not eating people. Probably !!!

AWESOME ZOMBIE MUSIC VIDEO

Watch it NOW !!! Its in YOUTUBE

A little background - "Lose Control" is a zombie short-film styled piece set to the music track, "Lose Control" of Keep You Honest's debut album. The video (and the album) were both released in late July, 2010. Lose Control was completed in only a day and a half, with a cast and crew mostly comprised of volunteers, and a budget of roughly $1000. Set in a rural area, it tells the story of a mother and a son fleeing an abusive relationship only to come across a zombie outbreak and forced to flee from the safety of their car into the woods.

GET BIG TITS ZOMBIE IN 3D ONCE A MONTH AND ON DVD

"DESTINED TO BE A LATE-NIGHT PARTY CLASSIC: SEXY AND WILD WITH A HINT OF THE ABSURD AND DRIPPING BLOOD ALL THE WAY." – FORCES OF GEEK.COM

Big Tits Zombie 3D is on DVD from Terracotta Distribution and available now. Special Features include: cast interviews; 'Making of' featurette; deleted scenes; photo gallery; trailers.

'Zombie Strippers' meets 'The Evil Dead' Japanese style in Big Tits Zombie. Chainsaw-wielding cowgirls, bloody decapitations, eyeball lollipops, zombie sushi, human buffets, samurai sword slashing strippers, gratuitous nudity, the most inappropriate flame thrower ever and a gorgeous Goth-Lolita villain who is literally to die for are just a few of the delights on offer in Big Tits Zombie, which comes to DVD as a single disc release featuring both 2D and 3D versions of the movie.

Terracotta Distribution announces that the legendary cult cinema venue The Prince Charles Cinema, London, plans to screen Terracotta's latest release 'BIG TITS ZOMBIE' on a monthly basis.

In the past, The Prince Charles Cinema has been well known for it's screenings of 'THE SING-A-LONG SOUND OF MUSIC' as well as 'THE ROCKY HORROR SHOW' where audience members dress as members of the cast of the respective films.

Following in these grand traditions, 'BIG TITS ZOMBIE' audience members dressed as a 'big tits zombies' get in for free!

THE CODE OF THE ZOMBIE PIRATE

HOW TO BECOME AN UNDEAD MASTER OF THE HIGH SEAS

Set in the Caribbean of the eighteenth century, the epicenter of piracy, voodoo, and the dark arts, The Code of the Zombie Pirate reveals all the secrets to selecting, customizing, and managing a motley crew of pirates-cum-zombies. Imagine the consequences of pirates who have crossed the line to immortality: the breathtaking lack of respect for life—it's the ultimate pirate dream! Kenemore advises captions in:

- Selecting Zombie Pirates: Fast or slow, chatty or quiet? Can a zombie hold a cutlass, or is it better off using its teeth? As readers will learn, pirate crews benefit from diversity.
- Finding a Vessel Worthy of a Bunch of Dead Guys: Learn the ins-and-outs of pirate ships. Which ones best suit zombies, with their unique undead benefits and drawbacks?

- Flying the Zombie Pirate Flags: Learn how to instill fear with something as simple as a brain and cross-bones.
- Going Full Zombie: Should the reader—an aspiring Pirate King or Queen—become a member of the walking dead? There are benefits and drawbacks to this, discussed here.

This rollicking guide through the world that zombies and pirates both haunted and hunted will keep Zen of Zombie readers intrigued and win over legions of new fans.

SIEGE OF THE DEAD AKA RAMMBOCK

Taking its cues from the grim, minimalist realism of '[Rec]' and '28 Days Later' and the fast and furious zombie action of Zack Snyder's 'Dawn Of The Dead' remake, Siege Of The Dead (aka Rammbock), the superb debut feature from writer Benjamin Hessler and director Marvin Kren, is an invigorating addition to a burgeoning new wave of Euro-horror movies that is currently putting Hollywood to shame in terms of spirit and originality.

When lovelorn Michael arrives in Berlin to return a set of keys to his ex-girlfriend, Gabi, as an excuse to see her again, he finds her apartment empty save for a couple of plumbers making repairs to the central heating. Just as Michael learns from the plumber's apprentice, Harper, that Gabi has popped out for a while but will return soon, the apprentice is attacked by his boss who has unexpectedly and inexplicably transformed into a raging madman. Together, Michael and Harper manage to bundle the crazed plumber out of the apartment and barricade themselves safely inside. Within minutes, they find themselves trapped in apartment block under siege from a horde of similarly insane people, apparently hungry for human flesh.

The radio news reports of a deadly virus spreading throughout Berlin, transmitted by body fluids via bites and bleeding wounds. The result is a city overrun by bloodthirsty zombies. Surrounded by the undead, Michael and Harper have to figure out how to stay alive long enough to get out of the building safely and, if Michael has anything to do with it, find Gabi along the way.

Starring Michael Fuith (Rimini; Free To Leave) and Theo Trebs (The White Ribbon), Siege Of The Dead is a superior zombie flick, full of creeping suspense, paranoid unease and adrenaline-boosting brutality with an unexpectedly tender moment of zombie love thrown in for good measure.

Siege Of The Dead (cert. 15) will be released on DVD by Revolver Entertainment on 25th October 2010.

ZOMBIE MOVIES ON THE HORROR CHANNEL

October/November 2010

(Sky 319, 320 Virgin 149 and Freesat 138)

The dark nights are here and you can rely on the Horror Channel to fill them with more nightmares of the undead than any other station.

October

A premiere not to miss is on the 17th at 22:55. Jim Mickle's contemporary shocker Zombie Virus On Mulberry Street is a stunning shocker where six tenants of a tumbledown tenement are faced with surviving a diseased pack of rats, whose bite is turning their human victims into blood-thirsty mutants.

If you fancy a late night then put Wednesday the 20th in your diaries for at 02:55 we present an hilarious horror comedy of marital strife with a dash of brain-munching zombie action. In Zombie Dearest a dotting husband Gus goes to any lengths to please his wife, even as far as digging up a corpse to do his bidding! Original, funny and gory this is one movie that will have you laughing aloud one minute then shaking in fear the next.

Mockbuster central, US film studio The Asylum present their version of a classic story on Friday the 22nd. I Am Omega gives the post-apocalyptic thriller a kung fu twist as Renchard (martial arts star Mark Dacascos) battles against mutant creatures that control the planet. The masses of undead rise at 00:55.

Candyman star Tony Todd is here to stalk your dreams on Saturday the 30th at 21:00 in the heart-stopping shocker Shadow: Dead Riot. When the jail that once held and executed voodoo-practising serial killer, Shadow, is turned into a women's prison, he and his zombie minions are resurrected.

November

We kick off November in fine style on the 1st at 00:45 with the ravishing supernatural hit Flesh For The Beast. A crack team of parapsychologists investigate a former brothel playing host to gorgeous seductive demons, a zombie army and a terrifying satanic secret.

Tobe Hooper's Mortuary gets an airing on Thursday 11th at 22:55. It's the story of a widow named Leslie who moves her family into a small town mortuary which hides a dark secret. Blood, zombies and more blood this is one of Hooper's best efforts and up there with his other classic shocker, The Texas Chainsaw Massacre.

Another late night for you is Wednesday 24th at 02:55 when the Horror Channel presents one of the best British movies ever. In The Zombie Diaries a viral outbreak sees the dead rise, and as the world succumbs to the shuffling zombie masses, three groups of survivors witness the carnage and fight for survival.

As with all TV channels the dates and times are subject to alteration so please go to www.horrorchannel.co.uk for any last minute changes. Also join us on Facebook <http://www.facebook.com/horrorchannel> and Twitter http://twitter.com/horror_channel

BUY some High Quality Fake Blood by Gav'n Gore

<http://cgi.ebay.co.uk/ws/eBayISAPI.dll?ViewItem&item=120626203110&ssPageName=STRK%3AMESELX%3AIT>

Or search for "Halloween Fake Costume Horror Blood" on eBay

I am a Special Effects Make-Up Artist and this is my own tried and tested Fake Blood. It has been used for Zombie Films, Horror Film festivals, Film Promotions and Live Action Role Play Events

The Blood itself is very thick making it very simple to apply, as it gets warmer it glistens and begins to drip for a truly horrific effect!! Its also great to use with latex wounds (see picture) it can make even the cheapest shop bought pieces look gross!! All ingredients are natural and the Blood is Non Toxic & Fully Edible, also if you need a slightly Runnier Blood you can mix in some water and its still great!! The Blood comes in a 75ml pot and is best kept at room temperature. If you require different quantities, see my other listings or give me an email and we can sort something out.

I will also be making you lot up as Zombies at this years Day of the Undead, so find me and have a chat...

HAPPY HALLOWEEN EVERYONE!!!!

MASS DESTRUCTION

DAY OF THE UNDEAD
4TH UK FESTIVAL OF ZOMBIE CULTURE

Port Gamble, a quaint little coastal town known for its conservative residents and old fashioned, small town ways. An idyllic, scenic location, full of beautiful surroundings and tradition American values. All of which are about to be sent to hell with the arrival of a toxic, rotting corpse washed up upon one of its celebrated beaches. The community of Port Gamble is about to have its face ripped off, chewed up and spat out as the neighbourhood begins to transform into rabid, flesh eating zombies. Is it germ warfare? Is it something more sinister? Who can save Port Gamble from its bone crunching, gut spewing doom? Could it be Frida, the sultry, Iranian (and US citizen college drop out? Joe, the psycho basement dweller? Apocalypse obsessed Reverend Harris? Or the unhinged Mayor Burton? One thing is for sure, it's taken a bunch cannibalistic corpses to bring any life to this town and if it's brains they're after, it's going to be a long night for the living dead.

Zombies of Mass Destruction is out now on DVD and is also part of the Day of the undead in November, so head to the Terror4fun website to see this movie on the big screen.
